Historic Arkaba Station, a working sheep station on the edge of South Australia's rugged Flinders Ranges.

SOUTHERN BELLE

South Australia is having a moment. Not only has the state enjoyed a starring role in several acclaimed films recently, including the Clive Owen-starring The Boys Are Back, but the reopening of historic Arkaba Station in the Flinders Ranges is also attracting attention.

Wild Bush Luxury, the team behind the Bamurr Plains five-star safari in the Northern Territory and glam-camp Sal Salis at Ningaloo Reef, Western Australia, has completely refurbished the heritage homestead.

Fine dining, wide verandas, day beds and an infinity-edge pool are just what you want after a day mountain biking in the Flinders Ranges or taking a scenic flight over nearby Lake Eyre.

Who said the eastern states have all the fun?

Paris, je t'aime

Melbourne's superstar chef Shannon Bennett, of Vue de Monde fame, has turned his passion for Paris into a deeply personal travel guide.

Shannon Bennett's Paris is a tour of his favourite Parisian dining spots, ranging from Michelin three-star restaurants to simple bistros and romantic wine bars. The beautifully illustrated guide also includes the pick of the Paris providers, Bennett's favourite parks and picnic locales, and recipes showcasing his take on French classics. Can't get there? Wear your love for the city on your arm with Longchamp's new "I heart Paris" Badges Le Pliage bag. So French, so chic.
